Canadian Pacific Railway Company,
Vancouver, B.C.

Dear Sir:                      Re: Wm. Armstrong, Deceased.

With further reference to the above matter, will you please advise me if the Canadian Pacific is willing to enter into conference for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not a settlement can be made of the above claim.

Of course, any negotiations for a compromise of the claim, whether verbal or written, are entered into without prejudice to the rights of any party, and are not admissible in the event we cannot agree.

It is probable that a compromised figure can be reached which is more profitable than litigation to both parties, and more in accordance with the right of the case, all circumstances considered.

At any rate, I would like to know your attitude, so that we may proceed accordingly.

Thanking you, I am

Very truly yours,
